President May Refuse To Receive Committee

President Wilson may refuse to receive the delegation from the home rule committee, which has been appointed by the Chief Executive to demand the retirement of Oliver P. Newman as Commissioner for the District of Columbia.

Administration officials close to the president declared that President Wilson is inclined to regard the home rule committee as being moved more by partisan politics than by civic pride in its efforts to secure the retirement of Newman from office. Likewise, it is said, he feels that the attack on Mr. Newman is an attack on him, in that the committee is questioning the eligibility of the Commissioner, has questioned the propriety of President's action in naming him Commissioner.

Friends of the President called attention this morning to the fact that many members of the home rule committee who would head the delegation at the White House, had been in opposition to the President in other matters.

NATION-WIDE WAR

ON PRICE OF BEEF

Women of Country Are Likely to Unite in a Boycott on Meat.

Cheaper grades run from 25 to 28 cents a pound. Roast beef is quoted at from 20 to 28 cents a pound, an increase over last week of from 2 to 3 cents a pound. Pork has also gone up, as though to keep the beef company.

Although the national executive committee of the Housewives' League is withholding a call for a meat boycott for seven days, pending an investigation of present high prices, an urgent appeal that the consumption of meats be decreased as much as possible went out from the New York headquarters today.

Many consumers have been urging an immediate boycott, but the headquarters bulletin declares this is not desired until further investigation can be made. In the meantime, housewives are called upon to use vegetables, fish, poultry and eggs only.

Officers of the Cleveland Housewives' League announced that they will be in complete accord with plans of Mrs. Julian Heath, national president of the organization, if a beef boycott is declared.

In addition to recommending a fish, egg, and vegetable diet, the Cleveland housewives will stock up with poultry and eggs, pending the announcement of a general boycott.

Beef Steers at Highest Recorded July Point

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 14.—Price of beef steers continues to climb in the Kansas City live stock market, and before the close today it was predicted that $10 steers might be a reality. Native steers brought $9.75 at the top of the market yesterday, equal to the highest price ever recorded in July at this market.

Reed Working to Secure Harmony in Committees

Senator Reed of Missouri has raised the question of joint sessions of the Judiciary and Interstate Commerce committees in order to work out the trust problem.

It is apparent that the two committees are not in harmony, and Senator Reed, who advocated such a step in a speech on the floor Monday, is preparing a resolution to that effect.

Another day of debate on the trust question Monday was marked by practically no progress toward enactment of legislation. Senator Reed assailed the "unfair competition" provision of the trade commission bill. Senators Horn and Nelson also criticized the measure.

Senator Newlands demanded a vote on the "unfair competition" provision, and is also seeking a vote on the trade commission bill itself, but has been unable to get either on the section or on the bill.

New Haven Case May Nip McReynolds' Ambition

The report of the Interstate Commerce Commission on the New Haven's financial affairs may have a bearing on the appointment of a Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Attorney General McReynolds not only opposed the investigation which resulted in the New Haven report, but he has thus far done nothing in the way of criminal prosecutions of responsible officials.

Senator Norris, who introduced the resolution for the investigation, became convinced Mr. McReynolds did not intend criminal prosecutions.

Now, Mr. McReynolds is much talked for justice of the Supreme Court to succeed Justice Lurton. He should be named by the president to confirm in the Senate, and it will be due in part to his course in regard to the New Haven.

The Diggs-Cammitt affair would also be revived, and it is likely there would be opposition for his course in respect to that.

Sight Transmitted by Wire by the Telephone

PARIS, July 14.—An invention for transmitting sight by wire, just as sound is transmitted by telephone, was described before the French Academy of Science by Prof. Gabriel Lippmann.

Who read a paper on the telephone. The process consists of throwing a powerful light upon the object to be transmitted. This light falls on a disc composed of selenium cells. An electric current is passed through the cells, which correspond to the points of light on the object. These are collected by a rotary cylinder and then transmitted by wire and reproduced by mirrors on a screen at the other end.

Prof. Lippmann, of the University of Paris, was awarded the Nobel prize in 1909.

Small Catch Shows Need For Protection of Crabs

Washington dealers are sounding a warning against the unrestricted catching of crabs in the Chesapeake, because of the present shortage in the supply. It is declared that there is but one explanation for the small catches, that it is legal to catch them both in and out of season, and unless a law is passed of a protective nature, crabs will suffer the fate of the canals, which used to be so plentiful in this section.

July 15 usually marks the height of the crab season, but so far the receipts have been far insufficient to satisfy demand, and crabs are selling at from $1.50 to $2 per barrel.
